Construction News InContext | March 2008

Dixon Hughes was recently selected to speak at two American Subcontractors Association events.

On March 5-8, 2008 Mike Trammell, Member-in-Charge of the Construction Practice Group, and Sarah Windham, a Manager in Dixon Hughes' Charleston office spoke at the American Subcontractors Association National Convention held in Charleston, SC. The hour and a half long session was on the topic of "Steering Clear of Trouble with Chapter Financial Controls." On March 18, 2008 Mike Trammell also spoke at the American Subcontractors Association Charlotte Meeting.

According to Mike Trammell, "Because of our commitment to the construction industry, we are actively involved in and support a number of trade organizations. Our involvement in these groups includes activities such as serving on boards, speaking, exhibiting at trade shows and sponsoring special events. The ASA is dedicated to the advancement of the subcontracting profession and the businesses they serve. I recommend that all progressive subcontractors become involved in this fine organization."
