

MANAGED CARE PAYMENT AUDITS

Every healthcare provider has experienced the trend: shifts in copayment structuring, challenging economic influences, mounting prospective payments and complicated managed care contracts causing denials and underpayments to skyrocket while the cost of providing care has continued to increase. Healthcare providers must discover and utilize every means at their disposal to improve cash collections.

Dixon Hughes PLLC can help. We investigate a variety of avenues to ensure you receive full compensation for the services you provide.

Review and Assessment

Our investigation begins with a complete assessment of your managed care contracts and payments to determine fees your facility is entitled to receive for the services it provides. Reviewing your billing using proprietary software, we can suggest ways to modify your coding and billing strategies to obtain the appropriate reimbursement available under the terms of your managed care contracts.

Retrospective Managed Care Payment Audits

We also conduct retrospective audits of managed care payments through which we identify denials and underpayments for previously submitted claims. We then help you recover any unpaid reimbursements by appealing to each managed care payer. Our audits uncover and allow you to deal with the trends that are keeping your facility from receiving reimbursements due you.

Complete Managed Care Audit Services

A Dixon Hughes audit of your facility's managed care billing practices helps you improve your net revenue without substantially increasing your staff's workload. And you can be assured that we offer you the quality service and industry insight we offer all our healthcare clients, backed by the resources of the largest CPA and advisory firm headquartered in the Southeast.
